GLENDALE VICE MAYOR TALKS TRASH ON T.V. WITH NEW CHANGES AT GLENDALE’S RECYCLING PLANT

Glendale, Ariz. — Glendale Vice Mayor Yvonne Knaack’s new edition of the TV show “Glendale Today” highlights changes to the city’s recycling program. Knaack took her show on the road to give viewers a behind-the-scenes look at the recycling facility.

During the 30-minute show, Knaack interviews city staff about the new kinds of plastic that can now be recycled in Glendale. The interview also features the city’s new e-waste program that allows residents to safely dispose of unwanted electronic items such as computers, keyboards, monitors, etc... Knaack, who represents the Barrel District in Glendale, is also a member of the city’s Sustainability Subcommittee, which focuses on green initiatives for city processes.

“Glendale Today” is produced by staff from the city-owned TV station Glendale 11. The show will air daily on Glendale 11 as well as online via the city’s video library at www.glendaleaz.com/video and exclusive segments can be found on the city’s YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/MyGlendale11.
